Upcoming Events

Turkey Creek, Saturday August 25 (8:00 A start) – one of the good, newer courses in the Sacramento area – and with the opportunity to start early in the morning on a late August day, we should be able to beat the worst of the August heat. After a bit of a break around our summer ‘away’ trip, this is the first of 5 events between late August and early November. Entry forms are included with this newsletter and are available on our website (www.carmichaelgolfclub.com).

Dry Creek , Saturday September 15 (9:30 A start) – another long time favorite of the CGC – this is just a ‘heads up’ for this upcoming event. Entry forms for this event will be included in our next newsletter along with the results from our Central Coast trip.

This was the first of three CGC events in June. While we are proud of the fact that this event marked the 200th event in the CGC’s history dating back to 1990 – the membership spoke pretty strongly about what you will pay to play in local or semi-local events, as this $100 event ended up with only 16 players (and only 13 CGC members). It’s hard to disagree with you – while Chardonnay is a nice course, we’re not sure it’s worth that price. You can generally find deals to play it mid-week for less than half that price – take the opportunity to play it some time. We ended up with a nice weather day, and the course treated our small group as royally as a larger sized one – we think the 16 who did partake in this sinful pleasure had a good time. Other than one ‘lights out’ round, the course definitely got the better of the group.

Results from Mather, June 11, 2007

Our only Monday event scheduled for 2007, we ended up with another fine weekday turnout of 28 players for this morning start. The group has supported weekday events well the past few years – it is likely that we will schedule two weekday events (one Monday morning, one Friday afternoon) in 2008. The summer heat was just beginning, and we ended up with a beautiful weather day. Mather was in excellent shape – it is likely to be on our weekend schedule in 2008. The golf was well played – as you had to break net par to be in the money in all 3 flights!

Results from Castle Oaks, June 23, 2007

When we initially switched our Castle Oaks event from early May to late June to accommodate available dates for Rancho Solano, we were afraid that the weather for the Castle Oaks event might be stifling. We dodged a bullet with a mid-to-upper 80's degree weather day with a little breeze, allowing the 31 players to truly enjoy this golfing layout. One of the few times we've played this course in the middle of the year, it was in great shape, with the scores reflecting the true nature of this course – good scores can be had, with big scores lurking to derail the weak at heart.

Results from Mare Island, July 21, 2007

What a beautiful weather day we had for this event – a clear day with comfortable breezes off the north bay. The course was no pushover, with only 4 of the 31 players breaking net par (the course yardages are not a true gage, with it playing to a par 70 and with the hilly terrain throughout the course). Those who stayed afterwards for the final results wanted to make sure we didn't wait another 3 years to come back – we hope that was the consensus of the majority who played this day, as we will probably look into coming back in 2009.
